PATTERN PIECES.

- 800 218 1836 Dollar known as the Gobrecht Dollar, with his name on the base of the figure of Liberty. A very little nicked, but still a desirable piece. Proof
- 7000 219 1836 Another, similar in design, excepting that the name of Gobrecht is on the field of the dollar, between the date and the base of the figure of Liberty. Of these there were but Eighteen struck at the time, and they are consequently very rare, and highly valued by collectors, and this identical piece brought $90 at the McKenzie sale. It is a most desirable piece for any fine collection. Fine proof
- 55 220 1855 Flying Eagle Cent. Copper, very fine, proof polish
A Set of Patterns of Honduras Coppers, purchased at the MacKenzie sale in June, 1869, at $4.25 each, and is the only set I have ever met with

50	238	"Patriæ Pater." Rev. "Providence Left Him, &c." Copper; very fine	Size 18

- 20 239 An Entire Set—Say Ten Pieces—of the Copper 1 Dalers of Sweden, which were, in hard times, forced upon the people at their face value, similar to the Gun money in England in the time of James the Second

Some collectors are under an impression that five pieces constitute the set. This is certainly an error, as I have a book in German styled "Nummi Singulares oder Sondebare Thaler und Muntzen, &c.," published in Breslau and Leipzig, in 1731, which contains the plates of these ten corresponding to this set, and in the text they are all described very particularly and several at considerable length. They are really scarce, and I believe this is the first set that has ever been offered at auction. The condition is very good, and the size rather larger than a half-cent.
